

I would love if the FCC would leave this alone because for the first time in recent years I can sit with my family at dinner and not get interrupted by solicitating products. Thank you for the Do Not Call List.